

Analyzed Report 8

The possibility to detect the chromospheric flares based on the natural VLF emission intensity data on the Earth's surface is considered. Diagnostics of the change of solar x ray burst flux at 0.5 to 4A and its estimation are discussed as possible.

